Direct examination of Mrs. Waynes Smith, one of the principals in the Smith divorce case from South Brownsville, begun Monday before Judge J. Q. Van Swearingen in Uniontown, was continued today.

During the forenoon Mrs. Smith testified that more than 100 times Dr. Smith left their bedroom at night and went to his office, but did not sleep there. About 11 o'clock it was his custom to leave the office and disappear in the neighborhood of the home of Mrs. Bertha Brown, correspondent in the case. Often Mrs. Smith followed him to satisfy herself of this, she said. Between 5:30 and 6 o'clock in the morning he returned, the witness testified. When she did not sit up awaiting his return, she marked the covers so as to be able to tell if he had been used.

Between 1918 and 1919 this happened about twice a week. "I was heart-broken to think that the doctor would leave his home and loved ones in such a manner after he and I had worked so hard in early life to acquire it. It was brought out that Mrs. Smith overheard her husband make an improper proposal to a woman patient. Admitting it the doctor was said to have replied that he "felt like a damn fool" afterward.

Questioned by counsel Mrs. Smith admitted she and her husband had frequent quarrels. She admitted hitting him on the wrist but parried questions as to giving him a "black eye" and breaking his glasses, saying "he had a black eye" and "he told me his glasses were broken."

During her examination Monday Mrs. Smith detailed the early married life and then led up to the trouble which began with the entrance of Mrs. Brown into their affairs. "Until 1914 Mrs. Smith testified she could not ask for a more devoted, loving and kind husband than was Dr. Smith. At that point in her testimony she paused and in a convulsive sob added: "and to this day I feel that I can't give him up." She said that she had been kind and loving always to the boys, Arthur B. and Clyde F. Smith and from the time of their birth had planned for their education and had created a fund which up to this amounted to $12,000. She then stated in detail the changed attitude of Dr. Smith both to her and the boys following Mrs. Bertha Brown, named correspondent in the suit, responsible for that changed attitude.

Special to The Courier.

DUNBAR, June 1.—With fully 1,500 persons in line and as many more gathered along the way and in the cemetery Dunbar yesterday celebrated Memorial Day, and the consensus of opinion is that the parade surpassed any former occasion. Three bands made music and the long line made a splendid appearance and caused much favorable comment. The place of honor among the bands was accorded Fosters file and drum corps of Uniontown, and this band deserved the honor bestowed.

Immediately following this band came four automobiles bearing the old veterans. Then came the Dr. O. U. A. M. to the number of 80, preceded by a firing squad of 12 World War veterans, clad in full uniform. The Sunday schools, each pupil bearing an American flag and flowers, came next, a division being filled by the cornet band of Fairchance. After the Sunday schools, came 20 mounted citizens, and lastly 12 automobiles handsomely decorated, ended the line. The ceremonies were held at the grave of the late John H. McGinnis. Speeches were made by Rev. Bolton, Rev. Wiley and Rev. D. W. Swigart. While these exercises were going on delegations of the Juniors decorated the graves of veterans in Franklin and St. Aloysius cemeteries. The entire program was carried out without a break or an accident. The affair was in charge of the Dr. O. U. A. M. and much praise is due them for the excellence thereof.

The town was beautifully decorated with flags. Stores were closed.

Ignored Desires of Congress.*PALMER BECOMES ACCUSER

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 1.—Charging that Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, had a perverted sympathy for the criminal anarchist, Attorney General Palmer told a House committee today that in dealing with attempts of the government to rid the country of dangerous aliens Mr. Post had appointed a self-willed and autocratic substitution of his own mistaken, personal viewpoint for the obligations of the public law.

Mr. Palmer was testifying before the Rules committee which is investigating the official conduct of Mr. Post in deportation proceedings. "It has become practically apparent," the attorney general said, "that Mr. Post's course in all deportation proceedings has been dictated by his own personal view that the deportation law is wrong rather than by any desire or intention to carry out the law as enacted by Congress. By his self-willed and autocratic substitution of his mistaken, personal viewpoint for the obligation of public law; by his habitually tender solicitude for social revolutionists and perverted sympathy for the criminal anarchists of the country he has consistently deprived the people of their day in court in the enforcement of the law of vital importance to their peace and safety."

"By his wholesale aid deliveries and his release of even self-confessed anarchists of the worst type he has utterly nullified the purpose of the Congress in passing the deportation statutes and has set at large among the people the very public enemies whom it was the desire and intention of the Congress to be rid of."

There will also be opened a second school and a committee has been appointed to find a suitable location. The students appointed for this section are William McKim and Herbert Gilmore, seniors of Geneva college. They are both most capable men, leaders in athletic work, both former soldiers and will make the work successful from the first.

Rev. Cleland, representing the National Reform association, which is organizing this work throughout the country, will spend Sunday, June 6, in Connellsville and will address the various Men's bible classes and Young People's societies on how to make this work successful in the community.

Notices announcing that the West Penn Power company will on June 1 file a new tariff increasing rates for power approximately 30 per cent have been received by local consumers. Advances in prices for everything that enters into the generation of electricity make the increase necessary, the notices state. Coal—the largest item of the power company's generating expense—has been raised from the previous price of $2.35 to an average of $3.50 a ton for April, 1920. Labor has increased 61 per cent since 1917 and various operating supplies have advanced from 10 to 50 per cent. CURL UP IN SMOKE*Last Evidence of Debt of $2,500 Disap-

History of the Church.

DUNBAR, June 1.—Sunday was a memorable day for the Dunbar Baptist church. As a memento of the event a booklet containing a brief history of the church and the names of the members, the names of the pastors and present members, prepared by the pastor, Rev. W. H. McKivven, was presented to each. The Dunbar Baptist church, which was organized in 1887, has a membership of 100. The church is located on the corner of the intersection of the main highway and the railroad. The church is a small, one-story building with a steeple. The church is a member of the American Baptist Association.

The afternoon service was interesting. Devotional services began at 2:30 and lasted half an hour. Then Rev. G. M. Riley of Fairchance made an earnest address on "Sunday School and Morals." The local pastors then made short addresses congratulating the sister church in her splendid success. Miss Emma Jean Rhodes of Connellsville favored the congregation with an appropriate reading. The service closed with an address by Rev. J. Earle Edwards of Connellsville on "Baptism Up-to-date."

The Harper school house, an old stone structure that stands at the junction of the Franklin and Conner roads, was the birthplace of the Dunbar Baptist church. The church was organized in 1887, when Rev. William L. Wood of Connellsville called a meeting of the Baptists of Dunbar and organized on June 29. One month later the little congregation was augmented by the admission of the members of the Mount Braddock Baptist church, where services had been discontinued. From this small beginning 33 years ago has grown the present prosperous Baptist church with a membership of 100.

The first years of its existence were years of struggle and often discouragement, but the members "kept the faith" and did not abandon the field. It was not, however, until 1894 that a church home was built and dedicated, and in 1905 the parsonage was erected and furnished at a cost of $4,000, including heating plant for both church and parsonage. All of this was paid except $2,500.

During the year ending April 1 the church collections from all sources amounted to $14,748.10; the disbursements were $14,366.30.

Following is a list of the pastors since the establishment of the Dunbar church: J. K. Brown, 1887; F. M. Cunningham, 1888; E. P. Preston, 1889; D. W. Swigart, 1893-1894; Max Wilcox, 1895; P. T. Denko, 1904-1908; D. W. Swigart, 1909-1910; Charles L. W. Leinbach, 1910-1913; W. H. McKivven, April 5, 1914, present pastor, and the members of his congregation hope he may live a hundred years yet to serve them.

Held on Way to Cemeteries and Voices of Former Fighters Mingled.

The observance of Memorial Day was never so fully carried out in Connellsville as yesterday, when the most impressive procession of years marched from the city hall to the two cemeteries in memory of the dead.

Headed by the Connellsville Military band there were in the ranks, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, members of the American Legion, other service men of the late war, Civil War veterans, members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the G. A. R., Boy Scouts and the Campbell band of the carnival showing on the West Side.

The parade formed at 8:30 o'clock. The usual line of march was followed, the procession going out Pittsburgh street and Baldwin avenue to the Chestnut Hill cemetery, then to the Hill Grove cemetery where a complete program was carried out.

There were a large number of former service men, members of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in line. The men again donned the uniforms of the World War to pay respect to the memory of their comrades who did not return with them. The firing squad and color guard was made up of members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Civil War veterans rode in automobiles at the rear of the parade. Plenty of cars were provided for the gray-haired soldiers and the members of the ladies auxiliary.

There was a large turnout of Boy Scouts in uniform. This contingent marched ahead of the veterans in the parade and assisted the older men in every way possible.

One of the most beautiful sights of the entire parade was when the procession stopped in front of the library lawn. At that point were assembled about 2,000 school children, practically all of whom were dressed in white. Huge quantities of flowers were given to the veterans to be placed on the graves and the entire assemblage sang "America."

Following this short ceremony the procession continued to Chestnut Hill. Hundreds were gathered at both cemeteries before the parade reached them and the streets all along the route were lined with people who followed the procession and attended the ceremonies.

Rev. W. H. Hetrick, who was to have made the address, was ill and Rev. J. Earle Edwards substituted. Both cemeteries presented a beautiful appearance yesterday. Flowers had been placed on graves in profusion and a mass of color could be seen in any direction.

Yesterday afternoon members of the William F. Kurtz Post, accompanied by a firing squad, took part in the Memorial Day exercises at Vanderbit and Dawson. At the street car they were met with automobiles and taken to the Vanderbit cemetery, where the main services were held. Dr. C. W. Whitaker, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Vanderbit, as the principal speaker, were held. Matthew J. Welch, a Spanish War veteran, also made a short talk. Kurtz then conducted the G. A. R. ritual. At the conclusion of the services the delegation went to the Cochran cemetery at Dawson where the graves of the soldier dead were decorated.

The campaign against the house fly, the most common disease carrier, which will be waged throughout the summer in this city by the State Department of Health, has been inaugurated. The aid of the Boy Scouts has been enlisted, and the assistance of every individual in the city is asked.

"Swat the fly" is the slogan of the campaign and the extermination of this pest will be urged by use of literature and propaganda flashed on the screens in moving picture theatres.

A campaign against the fly is on in Connellsville. The united effort of all is necessary to make this campaign successful. Judge for yourself the importance of our war against this filthy disease carrier. It was the message read in local theatres Monday. Then followed a 15-minute picture showing the destruction which could be wrought by the fly, the pictures being run through the courtesy of the theatre managers.

The Boy Scouts will aid by manufacturing fly traps. Work on these will begin when the model from state health headquarters arrives. In addition literature is being distributed among school children advocating the extermination of the fly and endeavoring to interest the children in this work. A moving picture will be shown at the high school for the children in the near future which will show them what a dangerous insect the fly is.

Ten thousand fly swatters will be distributed in this city when they arrive and with sufficient to supply everyone, the war against the fly should take a terrible toll in the ranks.

A city inspector will be named later to see that breeding places for flies are destroyed. It is expected the state war against the fly will result in an increased standard of health.

Of the 16,000,000 people in Mexico, 15,500,000 are peaceful and law-abiding and anxious that the nation be placed on a stable basis, and they are hopeful that friendly relations with the United States will be cemented, said Rev. E. T. Cornelius, missionary for the Christian Women's Board of Missions of the Christian church, located at Aguas Calientes, in the heart of Mexico, speaking at the Christian church, Connellsville, Sunday evening.

Rev. Cornelius was on his way from the scene of his work to the American border when the revolution broke out. He was delayed three days due to the overthrow of the Carranza government, but in no time was in the least danger, he said. All Americans were treated with the greatest courtesy by the Obregonistas, now in power, he said. Mexico, religiously, has not gotten away from the customs of ages ago, he said. As evidence of this he pictured a Holy Week assembly during

This means the passing of the government guarantee of $2.20 a bushel for wheat established during the war as a means of stimulating production. As soon as these contracts have been executed the corporation will wind up its affairs and turn over its finances to the treasury department.

Following protests by the ministers of the city to Mayor John Duggan against gambling devices and display of lewdness in shows at the Campbell carnival, which opened on the West Side yesterday afternoon, the mayor and a committee composed of Rev. J. L. Proudfoot, Rev. G. W. Buckner and Rev. C. L. Richardson censored the shows and other attractions last night. Two shows were closed and it was promised they would remain so throughout the week. It was also promised that no skin games would be allowed on the midway.

In a letter to the mayor the ministers said they remembered his attitude toward the objectionable features last year and believed he would again eliminate whatever is unlawful and immoral. The mayor replied to the communication no "lewdness or vulgarity" will be tolerated at this carnival or any other public entertainment during my term of office, which it is possible to prevent through the officers under my control.

"Evening, a show for men only, was the first one closed. In addition to being suggestive it was also a fake, the committee declared.

Another "men only show (taboo was "High Life." It was an attraction purported to be an educational exhibition. Everyone agreed that "High Life" would be better with lights out.

The "Dancing Girls" passed the censorship committee as did the hula hula girl, the colored minstrels, the wild animal show and "Over the Hills and Far Away" and other attractions which were also approved.

The committee of ministers met with Mayor Duggan and Fire Chief DeBoil following the inspection tour. The ministers went on record as being wholly opposed to carnivals and any game of chance but were inclined to be fair with the freemen since the carnival is here.

New Victor Records for June

Timely Records for June, the month for Brides, must be worth while if they are to rival the season. They do, fittingly. Can more be said? In order that you may agree with us, we invite you to come in and hear them.

Oh! By Jingo!

Mrs. Margaret Young, began as a society entertainer in Detroit, and overnight was proclaimed as a vaudeville headliner. There is always a reason behind success, and in her first Victor record "Oh! By Jingo!" when you hear it, will tell you why. It is sung with a charm and freshness that no other Miss Young to be numbered among the Victor Artists.

18666 "Oh! By Jingo" Margaret Young 10-in.
18670 "Oh! How I Laugh When I Think" Billy Murray price 85c 18668 "Mother's Hands" Henry Burr 10-in.
18668 "When the Harvest Moon Is Shining" Hart-James price 85c

La Veeda Fox Trot

La Veeda, a harmonious gem, with long easy strides and enticing coquettishness, is a fox trot that is unusual for its very free from "jazz." Green Brothers' Novelty Band with sweet toned cornets gives to this number an irresistible charm.

18667 "La Veeda—Castilian Fox Trot" Green Bros Nov B 10-in.
18668 "Desert Dream—Fox Trot" Green Bros Nov B price 85c
18668 "Rose of Washington Square" All Star Trio price 85c
18668 "You Ain't Heard Nothing Yet" All Star Trio price 85c

18668 "Irene—Madley Fox Trot" Smith's Orch price $1.35

Alabama Moon

Alabama Moon, an alluring waltz, sway gently played on steel string guitars in that charming Hawaiian style that everybody loves. This record is subtle in its appeal, and so beautiful that you will want it when you hear it.

18667 "Alabama Moon—Waltz" Hawaiian Trio 10-in.
18667 "Wild Flower—Waltz" Ferrer and Franchini price 85c

Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes

This old familiar song, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," is endeared anew, as rendered by the Pionale Quartet, played as it is in rich low chord, and then into higher key and back again. This number has oft been recorded, but this unusual rendition intensifies the beauty of the song.

64874 "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" Pionale Quartet 10-in. price $1
88616 "Love Me or Not" Barlowe Caruso 12-in. price $1.50

87669 "Don Giovanni—La ci darem la mano (Trio Little Hand, Love)" M. Garrison R. Wernersbach 10-in. price $1.50

Forsaken

Tender songs that stir the memory are all ways compelling. This song is that of a lover at the grave of his beloved, and as Kreisler plays "Forsaken" in "double stops," against a soft orchestral background enriched with harp, it becomes most compelling. Both the artist and the number are in real accord in this record.

64873 "Forsaken" Fritz Kreisler 10-in. price $1
64500 "Gracie Song" Alma Gluck 10-in. price $1.00

Evans Williams, a beloved Victor Artist, is gone, but he has left to us an heritage that will always live, the charm of his sublime voice. In "Good-Bye" his last record, made shortly before he passed on, as if he had echoed his immortality. To those who know the beauty of his voice the parting of his charm is needless and to those who do not own an Evans Williams' Record should by all means hear this number.

74550 "Good-Bye" Evans Williams 12-in. price $1.50
74616 "Nocturne in E Flat, Op. 9, No. 3" J. Heifetz 12-in. price $1.50

VETERANS HONORED

The younger veterans, who participated in the exercises of Memorial Day have just and proper cause to feel proud of the showing they made.
Equally are they deserving of the many compliments paid them.
Never before have there been so many in the line of parade in Con-nellville who have served their country in the states, as formed the concourse to the cemeteries on Monday.
The constantly thinning ranks of the Boys in Blue were augmented to such an extent by the veterans of 1898 and 1917-18 that the parade formation assumed larger proportions and a more impressive aspect than has ever been witnessed in Connellville upon Memorial Day.

This was as it should have been.
The passing of the grizzled veterans in whose honor the day was first observed requires that younger men shall fill the gaps in the ranks. Having by their service in the Spanish-American War and in the World War qualified themselves to take up the sad duties of paying tributes of respect to the honored dead, the men who marched in the parade were assisting to do what, in a few more brief years, will fall to them alone.

In the ranks of the paraders who represented the World War veterans, there were men who had entered the service through every avenue available during the war—the National Guard, Regular Army, Navy and Marine Corps, selective service—while the authorities of the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A. had representatives in line.
Former officers and former privates marched side by side without distinction as to rank. All were there to honor the dead, not to pay compliments to the living. For the splendid tribute they paid; too, have been honored.

STILL UP TO THE PEOPLE

Welcome as the recent reductions in prices for certain commodities have been, all careful inquiries into the subject of high prices reveal the fact that the relief thus far provided has been comparatively slight. There is yet practically no change in the underlying conditions of profiteering, curtailed production, interruption to transportation, resulting from the switchmen's strike, and the continued indisposition of buyers to practice self denial and thrift, which helped to win the war. This is the conclusion reached by two bodies which have recently concluded investigations of the price situation.

While the Federal Reserve Board asserts that "more sales" at reported reductions of 20, 25 or even 50 per cent—and a tendency to lower prices have been witness to the presence of "disturbing factors" suggests the need of approach of a decided alteration in price levels, the board declares it cannot accept the situation as a whole for its face value. The fact is, however, that there has been only a very slight increase in production. The disposition on part of the public to economize has not yet become sufficiently general or determined to change the conditions very materially.

The changes that have taken place,
therefore, the board's analysis says, cannot be looked upon as indicating a modification of underlying conditions.
They may, however, afford a basis for changes in business relationships that may broaden into more far-reaching alteration of the essential price structure.

Another inquiry, conducted by the high cost of living committee of the Republican party's advisory committee on policies and platforms, has resulted in the conclusion that a successful attack on high prices must include a vigorous avoidance of further inflation in government borrowing, a deduction of credit and contraction of currency, plus public economy and private thrift, increased production of goods and a revision of taxes as regarded as necessary to bring prices to lower levels.

Until the baneful influences of government and private extravagance, leached production and indifference service are removed, there cannot be reasonable expectation that the lower price movements will become permanent. Thus the situation remains very much as it has been for a long time—up to the people to apply the correc-tives of saving, thrift and hard work.

The War Department is carefully comparing information as to the success of Berdell's quest for "the pot of gold."

That West Virginia judge who sent a profiteering clothing merchant to jail in addition to imposing a $1,000 fine, has some old fashioned notions which, if adopted generally by the courts sitting in similar cases, would accomplish wonders in making profiteering unprofitable as well as unlawful.

Dr. Belvidere Nels at intervals,
Johnstown Democrat.

There are a whole lot of people in this country who would feel much better if Mr. Bryan were not now and then so consistently silly.

The New Pittsburgh Press Staff

includes the world's greatest Humorists ~ Cartoonists
Writers and Illustrators ~

ITUNE First. Today marks a new era in the history of Pittsburgh newspapers, the beginning of a new chapter in the history of THE PITTSBURGH PRESS. For THE PRESS this afternoon will introduce to its thousands of readers in this city and environs the greatest staff of feature writers and artists in the world. Each cartoonist and writer produces the "biggest hit" of its kind.

Their combined salaries total a million dollars annually. Many of them earn more than most big bank presidents. The income of the greatest exceeds $150,000 a year.

A "Who's Who" of the new members of THE PITTSBURGH PRESS staff lists the Comic Kings of America and the foremost feature writers of the world.

Daily comic strips, daily humorous columns, daily editorial, sport, women's page and magazine features—four full page Sunday colored comics, Sunday special features, and the great "American Weekly" Sunday Magazine section, that's the combination of features which will place THE PITTSBURGH PRESS in the front rank of the world's great newspapers. No publication in this part of the country will approach it. No paper in the world surpasses it.

GREAT SUNDAY MAGAZINE

The Sunday Magazine section is under the personal supervision of Morrill Goddard, "Father of the Sunday Newspaper." In addition to a permanent salaried staff of thirty editors, artists and writers, all specialists in their lines, this section contains the contributions of the most eminent figures in art, literature and science. Important current events treated in this section range all the way from unusual romances of real life that have the fascination of fiction to historical narratives of such vital importance as the revelations of European court secrets, in remarkable double-page series. The first page will consist of reproductions in full color of pictures by Harrison Fisher, Penryn, Staalaw, Howard Chandler Christy and other famous artists of America and Europe.

The fashion page is edited by no less an authority than Lady Duff Gordon, the famous "Lucile" of London.

Two pages are devoted to installments of a serial story—a gripping tale of love, mystery or adventure by Robert W. Chambers or some other leading novelist.

Because these prominent artists and feature writers are working for our readers just as much as this newspaper, something about them and their creations will interest everybody.

MEET GEORGE M'MANUS

There's George McManus, for instance. It is a fact that a president of the United States never failed to get his flash of fun in "Bringing Up Father" before going to daily executive conferences; that the richest man in America always turns to "Jiggs" before scanning the stock reports; that every time "Maggie" hurls a plate thirty million people laugh. McManus took his character "Jiggs" from the role played by old Billy Barry, the Irish comedian, in a play that used to amuse George in his kid days in St. Louis. McManus enjoys the profession of amusing people. His conversation bubbles with the same humor that characterizes his cartoons. He sees fun in everything—even in the many penalties of the reputation he has gained, as the world's greatest cartoonist. A chap wagged not long ago that George McManus is a horse thief and a murderer, serving a life term and is sending his daily and Sunday comics from the penitentiary. That's one of the penalties!

"Tad" is the world famous comic artist and sporting writer who turned slang into literature. Ask any one of the millions of Tad fans whether his daily chatter and the funny dialogue he puts into the mouths of his comic characters are real literature, and they'll tell you they prefer Judge Rummy, Fedink, Silk Hat Harry and the other creations of Tad to Shakespeare, Spencer or Milton. Thomas A. Dorgan is his name. According to his own story, he was educated in the public streets of San Francisco and took a post-graduate course on Broadway. Tad first used almost every new slang expression now common either in his pictures or his prose. What's "Tad" like? Well, just like his pictures, humorous, human, lovable—a "regular guy."

ABOUT "KRAZY KAT."

Everybody knows "Krazy Kat." Its delicious originality and artistic creation by George Herriman recently caused P. G. Wodehouse, the novelist and playwright to exclaim: "In Krazy, Mr. Herriman has got what Wagner was groping for in Parsifal. It is my opinion that if George Ade, Velazquez, the Brothers Grimm, and Lord Dunsany had got together and collaborated, they might have turned out something about as good as Krazy Kat, but I think even then that Mr. Herriman would have had the edge on them." The motif of Krazy Kat is the love of the cat for his tormentor, Ignatz Mouse, and Krazy's positive joy in Ignatz's token of affection, "a brick on the bean."

Probably no one is better entitled to be ranked as the Dean of American comic artists than Fred Oppen, whose "Mr. Dobb" will appear in the Sunday comic supplement and national cartoons in the daily PITTSBURGH PRESS. What reader of American newspapers in the last generation fails to recall his famous mule in the series entitled "And Her Name Was Maud" or the delightful fun in the pictures of the polite Frenchmen in "Alfonse and Gaston," and the immortal "Happy Hooligan."

"The Katzenjammer Kids" by H. H. Knerr of Philadelphia; "Jerry on the Job" by Walter C. Hoban; "Abie the Agent" by Harry Hirshfield; "Little Jimmy" by James Swinnerton; "Hon and Dearie" by Jack Callahan; and "Us Boys" by Tom McNamara, are some of the more important of the other daily and Sunday comics which will appear exclusively in THE PITTSBURGH PRESS.

McCAY—POWERS COFFMAN—BRINKLEY

Winsor McCay, admittedly foremost among American serious cartoonists, Tom Powers, and Hal Coffman will also draw for this newspaper. McCay's cartoons, always powerful, are marvels of draughtsmanship and technique. Coffman's pen delivers striking sermons in picture form. Powers is a steady contributor to the joys of life.

The whole world knows the "Brinkley Girl." Nell Brinkley's beautiful romantic illustrations which will be among THE PRESS' features are as charming as the loveliest sonnets ever written. C. D. Patchelor's famous social cartoons also will appear on the Woman's Page.

The sporting lexicon of the followers of prize-fights, baseball and football, the poker game, with the amusing vernacular of Broadway and the theater, all hashed into a slang de luxe is what "Bugs" Baer, the latest rival of George Ade, slips into his popular column which will continue to be one of the best features of THE PRESS. "Bugs" has gathered the familiar colloquialisms of all walks of life, and sandwiched them into a highly colorful slant on the English language, all his own.

The real name of "K. C. B." whose humanly interesting column "Ye Towne Gossip" will provide sunshine day in and day out for readers of THE PRESS is Kenneth C. Beaton. The unique force and charm of "K. C. B." in his column is a curiously rare and correspondingly welcome point of view and expression that reach down to and touch the real "You" beneath all the prejudice and cynicism and indifference with which the world has encrusted most of us.

AND ARTHUR BRISBANE.

And last but first in THE PITTSBURGH PRESS' new "Who's Who" is Arthur Brisbane. His daily column "Today" now appears in THE PRESS. Beginning next Sunday he will write a full page Sunday editorial, illustrated by Winsor McCay. Mr. Brisbane's writing on an infinite variety of subjects, challenges attention, awakes sympathy, and inspires thought. He is known as the creator of the modern type of newspaper, and is the highest salaried editor in the world.

That's the "all star" incomparable staff of THE PITTSBURGH PRESS. Today is the birthday of the daily features. June Sixth will mark the beginning of the great Sunday features. It is something to boast about, isn't it?

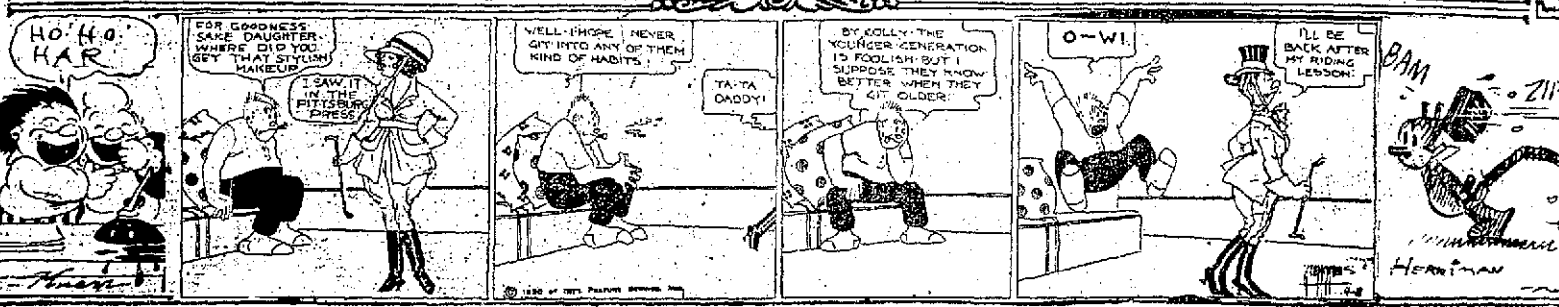

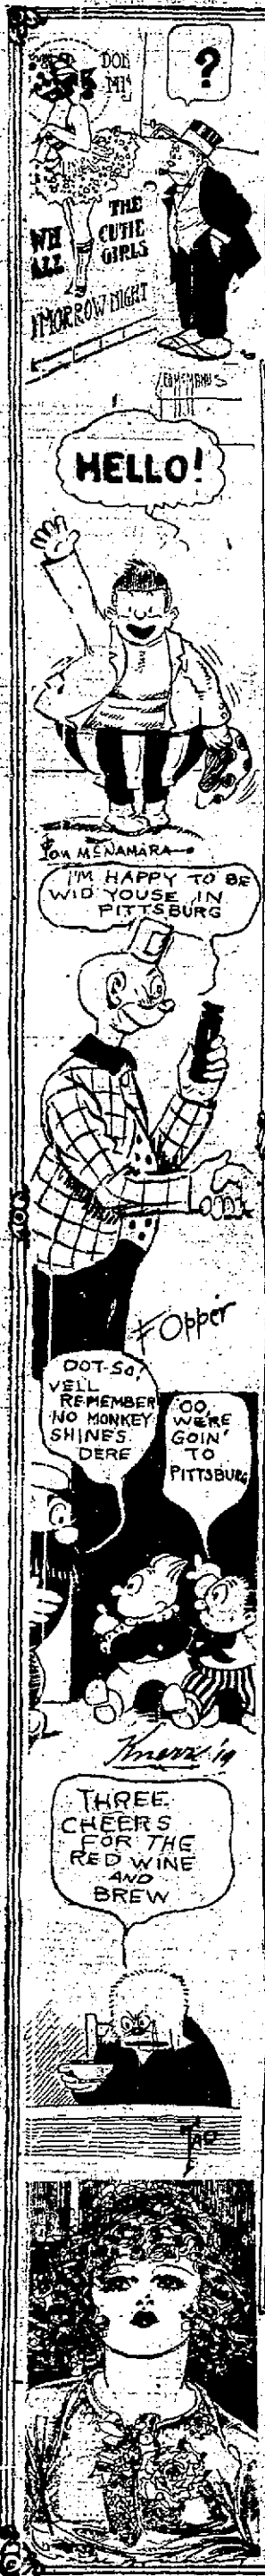

Arthur Brisbane · Howard Chandler Christy · Tad · Nell Brinkley.

George Herriman · George McManus · Winsor McCay.

INDEPENDENTS BREAK EVEN WITH CHAIN, ARE VICTORS
OVER MILVAINE'S OUTFIT

Joy to Pitcher Partly Accounts For Monday Afternoon Loss.

JARD HITTING FEATURES

Connellsville split even with the American Chain company team of Braddock yesterday winning out in the morning 3 to 2 and getting nosed out in the last inning of the second contest by the same score. Both games were close and interesting, the visitors putting up a nippy article of ball in the field in both games while the locals contributed some exceptionally good work in the afternoon game.

Connellsville tried two new pitchers. Hauser breezed through with flying colors in the morning, but Young, after going strong through nearly all the second game, injured his hand in knocking down a drive off Snyder's bat and was touched up for enough safe blows to lose for him.

Hauser and C. Krick staged a neat mound duel in the first heat the local heavier coming out on top of a 3 to 2 score. While an error figured in one of the Independents runs the visitors showed better work in the field than the home crowd, the fielding being rather erratic and two bad bounces being pulled by the locals although these misplays were so scattered that only one run resulted from them.

Connellsville got into the lead in the first frame. After Hauser had let down the side on strikes, Fisher singled past third and Francis forced him at second going to the keystone sack on the play when Stanley pegged wild to complete a double play. Getzie whaled one to right center scoring Chip although the play at the pan was close and American Chain put up a healthy squak. Getzie took second on the play. Moody drove a hard single to middle which came near meaning another run, but Getzie was nipped at the plate on Reid's perfect peg the latter having an arm reminiscent of Chief Wilson. The visitor tied it up in the third when James coupled and after two had gone out, Stanley did likewise.

In the following frame the locals took the lead again. Moody waited them out and drew a pass. G. Frazier moved him up one button with a perfect bust which he came near beating out. A. this point Haggerty was put in to hit for Amie Frazier and the switch was a good one as big Jim poled a fly which Stanley could only get the tips of his fingers on and Moody came in. Haggerty strangled the blow.

Moody brought in the final count in the sixth by singling past short and then putting on an effective sketch entitled "Christmas Morn'" with Krick in the role of Santa Claus. The latter opened the sketch by unnamuzing a wild pitch which came closer to President Uris than it did to James. James tried to horn into the piece with a passed ball and Moody took third. He took a pretty long lead and Krick brought the act to a neat ending by making a balk which allowed Moody to stir over the gum although there was a play made on him.

This ended the run getting for Connellsville, but in the eighth the visitors got boisterous and threatened to tie it up. Flynn, first up, hit to Moody who had him pegged out at first, but Smitley gloomed things by dropping the ball. Stanley got hold of one and shipped it nearly to the fence, scoring Flynn but was out 10 feet trying to stretch the blow into a double on Getzie's accurate chuck to Moody. In the ninth, Swanezy singled and Snyder, running for him got to third on a sacrifice and an error but died there forgotten when Hauser threw out Krick and Getzie performed the same offices for Flynn.

Afternoon Game.
Federal infield hit, James' sacrifice and three solid swats by Snyder, Flynn and Stanley gave the Braddock outfit two runs and the game in the final frame after the home bunch had it apparently sewed in a sack. The affair started out like another pitchers battle, with George Young and Snyder, the latter jumping a Milwaukee contract to play with the American Chain, going about 50-50. In the third with one down, Fisher hit to Flynn. The pill took a funny hop just as it reached him and went to right field. Robe went to second on Francis' infield out and Getzie hit at Flynn. Once more the old apple took reverse English this time denting Flynn's shins and rolling on into uninhabited territory. Fisher scoring. Getzie stole second and James' peg went pretty near to Dickerson Run, Andy pulling up at third. In the meantime Moody was looking over four sour pitches and walked. Haggerty hit one to short which was too slow to field and Getzie scored. This gave the locals a two-run lead, but Jordan put a crimp in things in the fourth by polling one out the right field foul line and going all the way around before the ball got to Jones, although Getzie's peg was fast and accurate and came near getting the runner.

In the fifth and sixth the visitors began to find the ball and fast fielding with, well have to admit, the breaks of the game, got the home crowd out of some bad holes. Tom Jones got a hefty triple in the fourth, but it went for nothing as he was left stranded at third. However, with a one run lead everything looked rosy. (Till) the final frame when the storm broke. "Stoli's" outfit mistook Fayette Field for Indianapolis and began clicking off the laps and all of a sudden there went the old ball game. Young's hand which he had hurt a few innings before in an effort to field a hard drive began to swell so that he could hardly grip the ball. Then they began to come up there without much on them and it was barn bit, bam as related above.

The locals made a stab for it in their half, but couldn't produce. Haggerty led off with his third single and G. Frazier forced him at second. Flynn made a good stop of Smitley's hard drive and Gene was forced. Reid spilled Jones' fly and the crowd became very much alive. But Flynn ate up Young's pop-up and the stuff was off.

Several pretty pieces of fielding kept the score down. Smitley pulled down two in left field after hard runs which would have meant runs had they gotten away, and Andy Getzie prevented riot and desolation on the part of the visitors by a plip on the sixth, Gene Frazier's work at short was of a high order, and Feder of the visitors got a big hand from the crowd when he made a circus catch of Francis' fly, turning a complete somersault after the catch. Stanley, at short for

THE SOISSON.

"IN OLD KENTUCKY."—A First National production, starring Anita Stewart, supported by Mahlon Hamilton and other well known players, is being shown today.

Miss Anita Stewart, in the feature role of Madge, exceeds all desires of film loving devotees and adds to her own record her dearest and most satisfying conquest. Mahlon Hamilton is the sort of hero that our instincts for manliness and grace call for and he is much more than the reclining advertisement for a collar ad that some of our best known leading men turn into so quickly. And praise goes to good old Colonel Doolittle who was twenty years in coming to the question which was bringing him to the lady of his heart's best choice. Edward Connelley plays his part. Edward Connelley is again the best-dressed villain and a convincing one, too.

HOOVER SAYS "BACK TO THE FARM AND WORK"

Able to Again Become a Producer Instead of a Consumer Since Nerv-Worth Rebuilt His Health.

"I'm back on the farm again and working hard," says L. C. Hoover, R. F. D. 4, Elvira, Ohio. "I was renting my farm as I was not able to do the work, but now I am in my normal vigorous condition for Nerv-Worth straightened me up in short order. I had a bad case of stomach trouble and bloating and could hardly keep my food down after eating it. I went to specialists and doctors but it seemed I could get nothing to correct this trouble. I tried all the other remedies on the market, but I got no results, and I was beginning to get desperate. I had been hearing so many people saying what great benefits they had been getting from Nerv-Worth, so I got a bottle, and now I can eat anything I want, and digest it. My stomach trouble, bloating and rifting is gone. Nerv-Worth surely straightened me up." Such endorsements as this coming from all parts of the country and the millions of bottles sold prove that Nerv-Worth gives absolute satisfaction in any sort of stomach trouble or nervous trouble. Nerv-Worth is the best thing you could possibly take. It aids digestion, neutralizes poison acids, stops gas forming, builds nerve force, straightens up the nervous system, tones and invigorates the whole body. It is made after a scientific formula and contains no harmful drugs, bromides, or coal-tar products. It is excellent for children, as well as grown folks. Sold and recommended by the Connellsville Drug Co., Broadway Drug Co., Scottsdale, and all leading druggists.—Adv.

This old, reliable cough syrup promptly helps coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough. Contains no opiates. Children like it. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Lovely Dresses for Children's Day

All the charm of childhood has been caught in these nets so fine and sheer and in the organdies of a crispness to delight their wearers, or in the voiles and other airy cottons which have been fashioned into such beautiful little dresses for the younger girls, who will wear them to the grade commencements, to garden parties and for Children's Day which is so near.

In addition to the cottons there are fleecy crepes of Georgette or crepe de chine, ribbon and lace trimmed with wide sashes and lace effect waists.

Young girls will revel in these lovely frocks which are shown in white and flesh, light blue, maize, peach, rose and Nile green, in sizes 6 to 14 years and priced from:

$4.95 TO $27.50
